But the City Is Still Free. The Board of Health, in their 4 o'clock bulletin this afternoon, say that there have been no cases of cholera in this city since September 19. There were 812 immigrants landed at Ellis Island to-day from the steamships Rugia, Wyoming and Scandia.

The business of registering the new arrivals showed the ravages the cholera had made in several families. Augusta Zimmerman landed with her 8-year-old son. She lost three children during the voyage. Annie Zhiga landed from the Rugia with two children. When two days in port her husband was stricken with the placue. 'etronella Sterr had a 3-year-old son. The cabin passengers of the Normannia to-day presented Captain Hebich with a beautifully engrossed testimonial, thanking the captain and his officers for their behavior. Accompanying the testimonial was a nandsome watch and chain, A dispatch from Chicago cays: Ex-Surgeon John B. Hamilton, who has been conspicuous in organizing Camp Low for cholera suspects, returned to his office to-iny. He said: "The great trouble is that New York attempted to handle this matter slone when the Government should have had charge. It is unfair to the rest of the country, when 90 per cent of immigrants who laud in New York do not stop there, that New York should take upon herself the whole authority in this matter. The quarantine was inefficiently equipped. If the Government had had control it would have been impossible for a case of cholera to have reached the State. I think there will be some legislation on this point."

STILL AN OPEN QUESTION.

Connecticut's Supreme Court Won't Decide Whether the General Assembly Has Lost Its Power to Declare an Election-A Decision on the Ballots in Dis-

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 27 .- The Supreme Court of the State filed its decision in the quo warranto cases of Phelan versus Walsh and Sanger versus Henry today. A question whether the General Assembly of Connecticut has lost its power to declare an election is passed by without discussion. The Court says on this point: "We purposely refrain from express-ing any opinion upon these points and wish to have it distinctly understood that they remain open questions." The different classes of ballots in dispute are discussed, and the opinion of the majority of the court, summarized, is as follows:

The Superior Court is advised that the ballots rejected by the moderators, giving no reason therefore and those rejected for being double should be counted in estimating the whole number of votes cast; that the errors in the count should be corrected; that the "for" ballots, so called, should be counted; that the folded or creased ballots in certain cases should be rejected; that all the ballots rejected because of alterations in respect to the office of Probate Judge, some of which were designated for one district and sent to another, and ballots with a blank after the office of Judge of Probate, should be counted; that the 287 ballots in the town of Litchfield, upon which there was some controversy because of irregularities in the spelling of a name, are legal ballots and should be counted; that the ballots in the town of Lyme, in which the letter "R" in the last ummarized, is as follows: be counted; that the ballots in the town of Lym, in which the letter "R" in the last name of the candidate for Judge of Probate was crased are legal and should be counted; that the four ballots cast in the town of Hartland for Judge of Probate and which carried masters placed in a rather unusual manner should be rejected; and that the 14 ballots in the town of Winchester, rejected by the Mcderator because they had pasters written in ink, were properly rejected.

Judges Seymour and Fenn declare that they cannot concur in that portion of the opinion of the majority of the court which holds that the Superior Court should have counted ballots which the evidence of the counters' returns and Moderators' certifientes show were rejected and excluded from the count for being double.

STRONG NEW YORK DENOUNCERS.

People's Party Men Attack the Powers That

Be and Those That Were, SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 27.-The People's Party State Convention was called to order in this city to-day by Henry A. Hickes, of New York City. Chairman Hickes read an address, followed by the platform of principles, which denounced the action of the Governor of this State in calling out at the demand of the railroad corporations the entire military force of the State for the purpose of overawing the 475 switchmen who were on strike, and states that they believe the strike of the switchmen was simply a pretext for this display of force, and that the true reason for it was to serve notice on organized workmen that in any conflict with organized capital, no matter how just its cause, the whole power of the State was at the disposal of the latter.

Three resolutions were offered, one de-claring that the railroads of the State had forfeited their franchises; the second de-nounced Governor Flower for vetoeing the canal appropriation for the improvement of navigation; denounced Chauncey M. Depew. for making secret, wanton, freight rate discriminations; and the third resolution denounced the monopolies which had been organized and extended under the adminis-trations of Cleveland and Harrison, referring particularly to the Reading Coal Combine and Standard Oil Trust.

THREE BOYS KILLED

Victims of the Hallucination of a Dull-Witted Woman.

SHE CHOKED THEM TO DEATH.

THREATS TO MURDER A WHOLE FAMILY

Her Own Little Urchin Was Laid Out With the Others.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 27 .- Three ittle corpses lie side by side in the morgue at Bordentown, three boys, victims of a dull-witted woman's insane rage. Three weeks ago a German woman came to Bordentown with a 5-year-old boy. It was said that she came from Mt. Holly and that she was recently discharged from jail there. She rented a small house, and in a few days was ejected by the landlord. William Boyd, who occupied one-half of a little forlorn woman and her child into his household. She was dirty and ragged, but the 5-yearold boy she had with her was bright eyed and pretty. He won the hearts of all who

Yesterday William Boyd, his wife and 12-year-old boy went to Trenton to the Inter-State Fair, leaving the strange woman to take care of the two younger children, boys aged one and one-half and three years. She Gave Herself Up.

At 2 o'clock in the atternoon Marshal At 2 0 clock in the afternoon massar. Jobs was standing in front of the office of a lumber vard, where a woman addressed him and said that she wanted to be arrested.

"What for?" asked the Marshal.
"For murder," she answered. "I have just killed three children." Marshal Jobs thought that the woman was crazy, but, after plying her with questions, he became assured that she was telling the truth, and locked her up in the town jail. Then he went to the double house on Chestnut street and broke into the partments occurred by John Allen Disapartments occupied by John Allen. Dis-covering his mistake he forced the door of the adjoining house and searched the house. When he opened the kitchen door he stood aghast. Lying upon the floor in the filthy and miserably furnished room were three little bodies, with their faces cevered with torn fragment of soiled cloth.

The bodies were laid out with care and arranged according to size, in a manner showing method akin to madness. Marshal Jobs placed a Constable in charge of the bodies and hurried back to the jail. He asked the prisoner why she killed her child, and she said that it fell down stairs and struck its head against a flat iron. Then he asked her about the death of the other children, and she said that she killed them o put them out of trouble.

Strangled Them With a Towel. She spoke imperfect English, and the Marshal had trouble in making out what she meant. When he asked her why she covered the faces of the children with the cloth, she said it was to keep the files off. She was not under the influence of liquor, and Marshal Jobs said that she did not apand Marshal Jobs said that she did not appear to be demented. She refused to tell her name, however, and was reticent about her previous life. It was learned that she had been known in Mt. Holly as Lena

It is evident that all three of the children It is evident that all three of the children were strangled with a towel, which was found on a shelf in the kitchen. But her five-year-old boy has a wound upon the back of his head which was evidently inflicted with a smoothing iron which was found upon the table in the kitchen. Boger, the father of the two younger children, is a railroad laborer temporarily out of work, and the expenses of the funeral of the children will have to be borne by the town. dren will have to be borne by the town.

Bordentown is too near Philadelphia to get excited about anything, but yesterday there was considerable emotion displayed, and a subscription was started to pay the expenses of the funeral of the victims of the feeble minded woman. The examination of the murderess will be held on Thursday by Justice Burns. Meanwhile inquiries ill be made about the previous history of the woman. It is rumored in Bordentown that she was arrested and committed to jail in Mt. Holly for threatening to kill a whole family. She is a woman of medium height and build with dark eyes and hair. She told Marshal Jobs that her age was 29. But she looks ten years older. She was undoubtedly a pretty woman only a few years ago and her face is not repulsive now, although she has been living either in jail or in squalid quarters for several years. Marshal Jobs said last night that the house in which the crime were committed was in such a condition, that he ordered the occupants to clean up the premises immediately. ily. man and a woman are now undergoing treatment for cancer by a new method in the cancer hospital. This disease has always been regarded as incurable, and if new method which being tried in these two cases proves a success, it will revolutionize one branch of surgery. The new cure is on the inoculation principle. Of late years it has been suspected that cancer, like consump-tion and smallpox, is the result of the in-vasion of the human body by a specific germ. It was noted by medical men that erysipelitic conditions were prevalent with cancerous conditions. The line of reasoning developed the hypothesis that the crysipelas person was the element of cancerous disease, and it was but a step further to reason that inoculadouble house on Chestnut street, took the tion of the patient with the cultiva-tion of this person would cure the disease. The cultivation is said to be ef-fected by the usual methods in sterilized gelatine, by which are produced the bacteria which destroy the death-dealing power of the cancer bacteria. CONGRESS IS PRAISED

By Pan-Presbyterians for World's Fair Surday Closing, but

A HEARTIER MOTION IS SHELVED.

Pr. George, of Peaver Falls, Takes Fart in a Very Lively Debate.

MOODY'S EVANGELISM IS CRITICISED

TORONTO, ONT., Sept. 27 .- At this morning's session of the Pan-Presbyterian Council, the question of closing the World's Fair on Sunday was reported upon by the Business Committee, and the Council, as holding the consensus of the reformed churches throughout the world, expressed its cordial satisfaction with the action of the United States Congress in closing the World's Fair on Sunday. After the motion that the report be adopted was seconded, Dr. Pitzer, of Washington, said:

"Would there be any objection to put Sunday' in place of 'The Lord's Day' in the resolution? Because it will go to a Government that does not know anything about the Lord's Day, but does know something about Sunday.' Rev. Dr. Kerr, of Glasgow, moved as an amendment to the report the original resolution which he had offered and which had been referred to the Business Committee. Dr. Kerr's resolution was much more flattering to Congress. It read: How the Stronger Resolution Reads. This Council declares its admiration of the recent action of the Congress of the United States in tavor of closing the Fair of the Columbian Exposition on the Lord's Day; expresses the ardent hope that there shall be no reversal of this action, and, as a coun be no reversal of this action, and, as a council holding the consensus of the reformed churches, specially rejoices in the decision, as it illustrates the great Scriptural doctrine of the binding obligation of the Lord's Day on all peoples, and prepares the way for other action and reforms which would recomize the supremacy of the Lord Jesus Christ over nations, and promote civil and religious prosperity of all communities.

Dr. Kerr's concluding sentence in sup-port of his amendment was, "We find fault with the civil authorities when they do wrong; let us commend them when they do right."

Dr. Hall, of New York, sprang to the platform and suggested that the question be referred back to the committee, saying, "We, in this body, must set an example to all the churches in order, wisdom and reatleness." gentleness

Rev. Dr. George, of Beaver Falls, Pa., denied that Dr. Kerr's resolution intro-duced the matter of Church and State. Other Powers Deserve Credit. John Charlton, M. P., wanted the fair closed on Sunday, but he objected to Con-gress being singled out for admiration. Great Britain deserved some recognition for what she had done in the past, and sev-eral States of the Union had also placed hemselves on record. After this exceedingly lively debate votes were taken, and the milder resolution of the committee was adopted.

The atternoon session of the council was devoted to discussion on "Spiritual Life."

The delegates were beginning to leave and the attendance of visitors was not as large as usual. "The Relation and Duty of the Charles Council Session of the Charles of church to Outside Societies Doing Chris-tian Work," was the subject of discussion at the evening session. By the speakers the existence of outside societies was attributed to the failure of the church in some of the most important fields of Christian effort. The importance of bringing these auxiliaries under the direction of the church was emphasized, although, the speakers admitted, they did not fail to recognize the good these organizations are accomplishing. The severest criticism of some of the methods of organizations and individuals came from Mr. Edgar, who did not regard favorably unordained evangelists, such as Mr. Moody.
